

Town Adopts Pension Plan

Provisions for a pension plan for Newmarket town employees and hospitalization and medical insurance were introduced by the town council last week.

During most of this year, Councillors R. C. Morrison and Rudy Renzious have been considering different schemes to pension town employees. Ten schemes offered by private insurance companies were considered by Mr. Morrison and Mr. Renzious but only a federal government scheme was acceptable to the Ontario Municipal Board.

The town and the employees will contribute together financially on the pension scheme. All town employees including the police qualify for the scheme but not hydro workers.

The meeting was devoted to an 18-page pensions-by-law which passed second reading. The town employees will be asked if they wish to take part in the plan. Cost to the town if every employee went in with the plan would be an initial $10,000 and $2,000 a year. Following the suggestion of the mayor, council will debenture probably for the $10,000 if every employee goes on the plan.

A resolution also was passed to provide for a medical insurance scheme. The instigation of the

Junior Farmers Double Header

This year renewed interest was shown in the York County Junior Farmers home plowing competition with nine new contestants plowing including a new entry in the ladies' class, but it is of interest also that only three boys plowed with Dobbin providing the necessary horse power.

The lands were plowed on the home or neighboring farms and judged by L. H. Winslow, Millbrook. The prizes were announced and presented at the annual banquet held at Agincourt on Friday night last when Stuart Watson, district director of the Ontario Junior Farmers' Association, presided.

Norman Tyndall, Richmond Hill, had the champion land and was presented with the 30-year-old Marion MacGregor Challenge Trophy by Robt. Watson, Woodbridge, who was secretary of the organization when the cup was first donated. The names of previous winners engraved on it look like a list of International winners. The James McLean Memorial Trophy for the best land in boys' and beginners' classes went to 12-year-old Andrew Watson, Woodbridge.

The winners in the various classes were: Class 2, Norman Tyndall; J. Fraser, wrist watch; Elson Miles, Milliken, Eckardt tea service and C. Young Special; Bill Clark, Gormley, R. R. 2, 4; Elmer Harding, Milliken, 4; Class 3, Lloyd Baldson, Sharon, 225 Lions bus trip; Bob Hamilton, Schomberg, $10 and C. Young Special; Class 4, Carl Timbers, Stouffville, $25 Lions bus trip; John Kennedy, Agincourt, $10 and C. Young Special; John Heacock, Schomberg, $8; Class 5, Andrew Watson, Woodbridge, 2 Eaton Co. silver tray; Class 6, Archie Cameron, Woodbridge, 2 Perkins set of wrenches; Howard Doner, Newmarket, $10 and C. Young Special; Lloyd English, Queensville, $6; Nelson Buchanan, Unionville, $4; Class 7, Phyllis Wells, Stouffville, C. Graham cream and sugar set; Ida Bertolin, Ravenshoe, $10.

Instead of having a guest speaker for the banquet five young people competed in the County Junior Farmers' public speaking contest on a variety of subjects with ten minute addresses. Each contestant was then required to give a three-minute impromptu speech on assigned subjects. The winners were Greg McGuire, Schomberg; Lois Graham, Highland Creek; Ruth Watson, Woodbridge.

Judges for the oratorical were Mr. W. Adams of Aurora high school; Mrs. Ken Goodfellow, Nobleton, and Mr. J. C. Lawrence of Agincourt high school. While the speakers were getting their impromptu assignments the Schomberg quartet entertained with a "mixed" quartette and a solo by Gwyn Marchant.

WM. GEER NEW CHAIRMAN ARENA COMM.

Bill Geer was elected chairman of the Newmarket Memorial Arena Commission at its inaugural meeting held last week. Present were the complete board of Dewey Kuhns, Ray Jelley, Leo Cull, Bill Geer, Bert Morrison, J. B. Walker and Tom Birrell. The board is scheduled to take over management at the arena on the completion of the installation of artificial ice.

Main moves of the committee were the insertion of an ad. in the Era and Express to secure the services of a competent engineer and manager.

At the Monday meeting it was decided a request would be put in the Era and Express asking all would-be users of ice time such as school boards, Pickering College, intermediate, juvenile, midget and bantam hockey teams, as well as surrounding district teams and organizations to make known their requirements. As soon as this information came to hand a proposed schedule could be set up, it was thought.

There was every evidence from the remarks of the committee members that the proposed program would stress ample skating facilities for the pupils of the various schools. Discussion turned to a bang-up opening night program that possibly will bring two outstanding junior A teams.

Gormley Man Hurt When Car Hit Tree

James H. Stewart, 25, of Gormley was rushed to York County hospital, Newmarket, after his car went out of control, skidded and ended up against a tree two miles north of Aurora early last Saturday morning. Stewart suffered a fractured collar bone and ribs.

Stewart was returning from Bradford around 12:30 a.m. when the accident occurred. With him were his wife Verna, 25, Mrs. Marion Heintzman, 28, and Gordon Tryon, 26. All came from Gormley. They suffered minor cuts and bruises. Taken to York County hospital at Newmarket, of the three, Tryon was the only one immediately released following treatment.

According to police, the car apparently went out of control as it came down a grade on Yonge St. Skidding 75 feet, the car struck the ditch and swung around against a tree. Attending the injured at the scene were Dr. Crawford Rose and Dr. J. L. Urquhart of Aurora.

His hobby is gardening and he still takes a good deal of pleasure out of working with the flowers and shrubs around his lawn. He is in good health and his good eyesight makes it possible for him to do considerable reading.

He has two daughters and three sons, ten grandchildren and 15 great-grandchildren.

Mayor Vale Urges Support Of Poppy Day

To the editor: Through the medium of your paper, I wish to call attention to the sale of poppies to take place on Saturday, Nov. 5.

I know something of the work of the Poppy Fund of the Canadian Legion and hope that it may be continued in the future. This fund stands ready to aid the veterans in many ways and in some cases is the only emergency help available to him.

If this fund is to carry on for another year, the appeal to be made on Saturday must be answered by all of us. I invite the citizens to join me in support of this worthy work.

Joseph Vale, Mayor.

Familiar Figure Around Town W. E. Morton 75 Saturday

A familiar figure around Newmarket for many years is W. E. Morton. He is sexton of Trinity United church and is probably best known as the mail man who meets all the trains, taking the mail from the post office to the station.

On Saturday he celebrated his 75th birthday along with a family reunion of 17.

Mr. Morton was born in 1874 on the farm of his father, Ira Morton at Egypt, south-east of Sutton West, and he attended school there. He stopped school at an early age and worked for farmers, on the western harvest excursions and in lumber camps, and finally secured a position in the paper mills at Sturgeon Falls.

In 1901 he married Ida Frances Grose, daughter of Henry Grose, Lefroy. In 1903 he was made caretaker of Belleville College while his brother, Rev. R. E. Morton was preparing for the ministry. In 1906 he moved to Keswick where his father and mother lived on a farm. He worked at the Keswick power house and on farms until he purchased a 100-acre farm near Cookstown in 1909.

Mr. Morton purchased the farm on Davis Dr. now owned by Andrew Watson in 1920 and remained there for 15 years. Retiring from farming in 1935, he purchased a store in Sutton, later moved to Uxbridge in 1937 and back to Newmarket, again, purchasing a home at 53 Timothy St.

Five brothers of W. E. Morton are Isaac (deceased), John, Toronto, Ernie, Newmarket, Rev. Richard, Oshawa, and Norman, Thornhill. One sister, Mrs. Angus King (Mary), died. His wife died November 27, 1948. Three sons are George, serving in the Mounted Police at Calder, Sask., Milton, an overseas veteran employed at the Davis Leather Company, Newmarket, and Wallace, an overseas veteran on the office staff of the Rollin Paper Co., Toronto. Three daughters are Mrs. R. N. Smith (Eleanor), Montreal, Mrs. G. S. McRae (Mabel), Watford, and Mrs. L. W. Pike (Evelyn), Carlton Place.

Mr. Morton was a share holder for many years in the Newmarket Dairy Company, president of the local branch of the United Farmers of Ontario, on the board of stewards at Trinity United church. All the trees in Lions Club Park were planted by him.

No Accommodation For Pupils--Ridges Moot School Area

A deputation from Oak Ridges school section placed its school problem before Whitechurch council on Saturday. Oak Ridges, Mr. Frank Legge told council, has 275 pupils including 60 children from outside the section, half from Wilcox Lake. A recent addition was overcrowded, and staggered classes are the result with children being able to attend only half a day. Some children up to seven years are still without any accommodation at all. Mr. Legge suggested there was need of a two or three-room school for Wilcox Lake alone.

Clerk Crawford told the meeting a recent survey showed there are ten percent more children attending now and 18 percent more children of pre-school age than formerly.

One spokesman said the debenture debt in the section was as much as the area could stand. Any more tax would lead people to scatter into other sections because of oppressive taxation.

Reeve Logan said council realized the serious problem that had arisen, but could not offer any solution. If the section could arrive at a solution that needed consideration by council he thought it would be a better approach.

It was pointed out by the delegation that the section to the north of Oak Ridges was overcrowded and contemplated expansion. Not long ago questionnaire sent out by council indicated by the answers received that the trustees did not favor an overall school board for the whole township, something which could go a long way to solving a trouble such as has arisen at Oak Ridges and Wilcox Lake.

Despite this over-all picture in Whitechurch, Oak Ridges apparently is for a township school area, as indicated at a meeting of the Oak Ridges Home and School Association held recently. The meeting was addressed by H. A. Halkett. He spoke favorably of school areas and explained how the burden is carried evenly by the whole township and how the schools of Scarboro and district were transformed by school areas. He went as far as to say: "If there had not been school areas, there would not have been any schools." A motion was made and seconded that

Mayor Requests Two Minutes Silence

Mayor Joseph Vale has issued the following statement with respect to the observance of Armistice Day, Nov. 11, in Newmarket: All persons in the town of Newmarket are requested to observe two minutes' silence on the 11th of November commencing at 11 o'clock in the morning in honor of the boys who paid the Supreme Sacrifice in World Wars 1 and 2.

The Mayor and Members of Council will attend at the cenotaph on D'Arcy Street to observe this silence and all citizens of the town wishing to do so are invited to participate in this ceremony.

Immediately prior to 11 o'clock the mayor, on behalf of the town, will lay a wreath at the cenotaph and the veterans' organizations and other organizations and citizens are invited to lay wreaths at the same time.

Wins Potato Contest For Third Time

Seven hundred bushels of potatoes per acre is a lot of spuds to grow any year but in spite of the severe drought one member of the York County 500 Bushel Potato club was only 11 bushels short of that yield.

For the third time in succession Herb Jones, Maple, whose farm is in the Honey Pot district of Vaughan has won the contest, this year with the staggering yield of 689 bushels and the judges say that had the check diggings been taken across the best end only it would have run close to 1,000. It has been suggested this district should be re-named Potato Pot.

Twenty growers competed again this year and second place goes to Douglas Campbell, Mount Albert, with a yield of 549 bushels per acre. Andrew Williams, Shadlow Lake Farm, Stouffville, comes in third with 543 bushels, Norman Payne, Maple, 537 bushels for fourth and Cliff Walkworth, Stouffville, fifth with 516 bushels. The average for the 20 fields was 432 bushels.

The committee will be meeting shortly to arrange for the annual banquet and presentation of prizes. In the meantime it is expected that those growers with the higher yields will enter the championship class for the C.I.L. Special at the Royal Winter Fair.

Legion Hall To Be Dedicated

The new Aurora Canadian Legion hall will be dedicated and officially opened on Sunday, Nov. 13, in connection with the annual civic Remembrance Day service. Col. The Hon. Arthur Welsh, D.S.O., M.C., the provincial secretary, will be the guest speaker and turn the key for the occasion. Rev. K. K. Perdue, the branch padre, now resident in Toronto, will take the service at the cenotaph and officiate at the dedication.

The official municipal service will be held at Aurora United church at 2 p.m. Taking part in the service will be Rev. H. Howey, Rev. K. Whatmough, Rev. A. R. Park, Rev. Dr. Orr Mulligan and other Aurora clergy. It is expected that Rev. Don Ray, Kettleby, former R.C.A.F. navigator, will be the guest speaker. Fall-in is at 1:15 at Aurora town park and all veterans of the district are invited to attend.

Members of the municipal council of Aurora, Whitechurch and King have been invited to attend and along with the next-of-kin of the fallen will have a special part in the program.

The laying of wreaths at the cenotaph will follow the civic service, and following the official opening the public will be privileged to inspect the new hall and be guests of the branch and Ladies' Auxiliary at a tea.

Diabetic Survey Covers Over 800

The diabetic survey in Newmarket has covered over 800 school children and up to today, the coverage has been 99 percent efficient. There were only two refused among those to be tested for diabetes.

If the survey continues to find the co-operation in the rest of the town as it has in the schools and keeps the 99 percent record, the survey will have the most outstanding medical survey data recorded. It is the first diabetes survey to be made in this country, to discover the incidence of diabetes in an average community.

The four schools have been completed today with the St. John's school coverage 100 percent, the Alexander Muir 100 percent coverage and the other two schools 99 percent coverage. There were only two refusals to be tested, those being in the King George and Stuart Scott schools.

N. P. Kelly, in charge of recorded data in the survey, said that Dr. Kenny and his staff have found excellent co-operation from parents and teachers. "Some mothers actually brought in children who have been away ill or convalescing to have them tested," he said.

Pickering College is expected to be started on the survey today. The students will not be included in the survey for statistical purposes but the school expressed a desire to have the tests carried out there. Following the college, the high school will be covered and those students who live in Newmarket will be included in the statistics.

It is expected that the factories will not be started on the survey until two weeks have gone by. Dr. J. G. Cock, chairman of the citizens' survey committee and committee members are preparing for the survey of the remainder of the town after the factories have been completed.

Two-Thirds Welding Job Completed

The volunteer welding crew is moving along swiftly. Over two-thirds of the job is done. They probably will complete it this week. Mr. J. Hutchison of the Canadian Ice Machinery Co., engineer on the project here, is pleased with the work done to date. Mr. Hutchison is proceeding satisfactorily with the installation of the ice-making equipment. The compressor and condensers were put into position over the weekend. The brine tank will be in place and welded before press time. Following that will be the connecting of the various units.

Last week a mistake was made in the name of the chaps doing the welding job. It should have read Howard Newton. He and Morris Crowder have done the welding together and it's been a very big job. As one chap so aptly put it, fellows like Eddie Gibson, Geo. Stuart, Geo. Watt, Pat McLean, Les Woolven, have been working around the rink so much they should be able to go into a rink business. Here's a few more to add to the swelling voluntary work crew. George Hoare, Bill Evans, Bill Morrill, Norm. Tunney, Don Ivany, Deb. Cooper, Myron Spaulding. There are others we've missed but will catch up next week.

Work on front section for dressing rooms, etc., is proceeding according to schedule. The walls are beginning to take shape and by next week the visitors, and there are many, will be able to get an over-all picture of the future home of hockey and skating in Newmarket.

Several organizations aren't forgetting their money to be raised to complete the job. Newmarket Fire Brigade has pledged 50 percent of the proceeds of their euchre, dance and draw schedule for Nov. 11.

CAMERA CLUB TO MEET
The Newmarket Camera club, recently re-organized, will meet on November 7 at Pickering College at 8 p.m. when there will be the election of officers and a program announced. The club is open to all camera enthusiasts over the age of 16 years. The club has been inactive the last year and a half.

TO FORM R.C.A.F. ASSOC.

A Newmarket wing of the Royal Canadian Air Force association has been started on its way to formation. The club would be made up of former members of the R.C.A.F. It is hoped that an organization meeting will be held shortly. Any ex-airmen are urged to inquire through T. A. Sadeski, phone 920 or 921 by day and 840 by night, for further information.

Hallowe'en Party Overflows Hall

Variety is the spice of life 'tis said. There certainly was variety at the recreation commission sponsored Hallowe'en party Monday evening. Every variety of costume under the sun was to be seen.

The town hall, site of the main event, was filled to overflowing. There were countless pirates, Indians, goblins, elves, witches, Robin Hoods, skeletons, Supermen, Draculas, Tarzans, scare crows, Jack in the boxes and Bo Peeps. In fact, it's safe to say some of her sheep were on hand. The costumes reflected a lot of time and effort by the designers over the past week.

The Hallowe'en program opened with the preliminary judging of costumes at the various public and St. John's schools. The parade forming up at Queen and Main and the long line of costumed figures was led to the town hall by Citizens' and Trumpet Band. On the arrival at the hall those selected in the preliminary judging came forward to the stage and the final selections were made.

Following the judging, the evening was turned over to movies. As each and every one left the hall he was gifted with an ample size bag of candies and apples. The event stretched out so long the scheduled bonfire in the Wildfield parking lot was cancelled.

All those having a hand in putting the affair over can take a bow. Legion Auxiliary who put up the goodies, recreation commission sponsors, school teachers, Newmarket fire brigade, Citizens' band, Trumpet band, Pat McLean in charge of music, Don Brown, projectionist, J. B. Walker, master of ceremonies, the board of judges, Mrs. K. Russell, Mrs. H. D. Moore, Mrs. J. G. Downward and last but not least, Art Evans' Lions and Joe Dales' Optimists on the shelling out department.

Results of costume judging were as follows (in order of merit): pre-school age: Shirley Haskett, Bo-Peep; Grades 1 and 2: Denise Ann Tunney, drum majorette; Peter Watt, autumn leaves; Craig Holbrook, Robin Hood; Jim Ward, scare crow; Grades 3 and 4: Ray and Douglas Sheridan, Spanish couple; Roberta White, Jack in the box; Paul Forhan, Mickey Mouse; special prize, Bobby Hunter, Indian teepee;

Grades 5 and 6: Gary Bugler, the old man; Fay Russell and Gordon Burgess, bride and groom; Susan Burling, gypsy; Elizabeth Giovannelli, rainbow; Grades 7 and 8: Sandra Owens, the lady; Delwyn Creed, the skeleton; Patsy Quinn, daffodil; Helen Irwin, the pirate; special prize, John Insley and Charles McGuire, gay caballeros.

Pages from the Editor's Notebook

Tuesday afternoon, it was just a tickle, the mildest of irritations. Wednesday afternoon required frequent use of a handkerchief. Thursday morning was misery and by Thursday afternoon, we were in bed with our semi-annual cold.

These semi-annual colds have become something of an institution, striking as they do in the spring and the fall. The kids have become quite accustomed to playing the roles of doctor and nurse to the invalid and it does have the effect of quietening the house for a few blessed hours. They bring their blocks and their dolls — offerings from the heart — and if they cannot cure their patient, they do the next best thing, climb into bed with him.

We have received from Gregory Clark a story on the book about the late Andy Clarke's "Neighborhood News" broadcasts. Let Greg tell you about it in his own words:

The late Andy Clarke's "Neighborhood News" broadcasts over a period of eight years on the CBC network piled up over a million written words of sheer delight to a very wide audience. These million words have been raked and sifted down to 60,000 words for a book — "Andy Clarke and His Neighborhood News" — which has been published by Ryerson Press in time to be a Christmas gift to someone in all the thousands of homes that were joyously invaded by Andy's voice every Sunday morning for so many years.

When Andy Clarke died, his widow, Vi Dickens-Clarke, herself a newspaper woman all her life, determined that Andy's work in recounting the humor and good-will of Canadian rural life should be preserved in a book. With the help of her friend, Mrs. May Holland Cox, an experienced author, Mrs. Clarke spent a whole year extracting from those million words of Andy's filed manuscripts the very cream of the stories her husband had culled from the weekly newspapers of Ontario and Quebec. Last winter, she enlisted from among the host of Andy's friends in the newspaper and radio business a committee consisting of Gillis Purcell, general manager of Canadian Press, Dan McArthur of CBC, Frank MacIntyre, of the Dundalk Herald and Greg Clark of the Montreal Standard, and after a meeting with Dr. Lorne Pierce of Ryerson Press, the task of assembling these into book form was begun. Thoreau Macdonald was the artist chosen to illustrate the book with drawings for each chapter head.

The result is a book so essentially Andy Clarke's that you can almost hear the tone of his voice as you read the pages. All the greatest stories Andy told are included in the book. The form into which it has been assembled is by months. Each chapter is a month of the year, from January to December, in which are grouped the choicest items that Andy broadcast in that month during the eight years of his "Neighborhood News" on the air. Greg Clark has written an introduction in the form of a biography, the interesting story of Andy Clarke's happy and friend-making life.

One of the features of the book is the index which enables the old Andy Clarke fan to look up the tale of the piano-playing dog or the bear that treed the hunter, without a moment's delay. It is a unique book, uniquely constructed and certain to be an abiding sweet memory to a multitude of people. The Canadian Weekly Newspapers Association which, with the CBC, was responsible for putting Andy Clarke on the air, is co-operating with CBC and the publishers in publicizing "Andy Clarke and His Neighborhood News" and steps are being taken to make it easily available to all who desire copies for Christmas. The price is $2.50.

The Editorials:

Poppy Day

Most Canadians will buy a poppy on Saturday. They know that the proceeds from sales will be used in the area in which they were made to assist unfortunate veterans or their dependents. They know that the manufacture of poppies and wreaths maintains other veterans. And they know the poppy is a symbol of the valor of Canadians who fought in two world wars and that the wearing of the poppy is the thing to do on the Saturday before November 11.

We wonder, though how many of the Canadians who will exchange the loose coins in their pocket for a poppy will give thought to those the act commemorates? Memories fade with the passage of years and the numbering influence of routine considerations. How significant is the poppy now? For families touched directly by war, the poppy will never fade; their suffering is too keen, too well remembered to be easily dismissed. The men and women who served—the poppy will have special significance for them. But for the rest of us, how will we remember?

The poppy is a symbol but it is without meaning unless it symbolizes we understand its significance. When we buy our poppies, let it be with the inner dedication that the meaning of the poppy will not be lost, and let us acknowledge the debt we owe and which we can only repay by remembering.

Artificial Ice

One cannot help but feel a sense of pride when he reads of or sees for himself the progress which is being made at the Newmarket arena. Artificial ice is promised by November 25 yet it wasn't long ago that doubt was freely expressed that there would be ice at all this winter. The accomplishment which has so proven the grumblers wrong is the work of the volunteers, men and women, and the direction of the ways and means committee.

There is, of course, a long way to go before the total cost of the installation can be paid. Those of us who for one reason or another are unable to volunteer our labor have adequate scope in which to assist by financial contributions. The project needs both the continuing volunteer labor and financial assistance to be successful.

Newmarket's method of providing artificial ice is unique. Other centres have paid the cost entirely from municipal funds or as a private venture. In one or two instances, the total cost has been raised by contributions. Newmarket, as far as we know, is the only municipality which has undertaken to finance its artificial ice by half contributions and half municipal payment. It would be an impossible task were it not for the enthusiasm and effort of individuals; the project now so close to completion, it is something in which we can all take pride.

But let us earn that pride with our assistance, no matter what form it takes. Let us all share in the work by contributing what we can, be it labor or funds. Then our pride in this accomplishment will be well earned.

Christmas Parades

The combination of a Hallowe'en parade and a bitter wind is a reminder of the proximity of Christmas and the inevitable question of whether there will be a Christmas parade. Inevitably too, the answer is delayed to the last possible moment; how advantageous it would be to all concerned if the decision were made well in advance.

The Christmas parade has had a variety of sponsors including the Era and Express, the Lions club and Chamber of Commerce. The last named is, of course, the logical organization to sponsor the parade but its lack of action suggests that it has succumbed to the disease of apathy as did its predecessors.

Lacking a sponsoring organization, it would appear that the merchants, who derive a great business benefit from the parade must undertake the task themselves. Why not? It is not difficult. The cost of Christmas parades is after all nothing less than an investment in goodwill, repaid many times over. The experience of other years should give some indication of cost. Divide the sum between Newmarket merchants; if all assume their share of the cost, it shouldn't be high.

The disadvantage of a Christmas parade as far as the merchant is concerned is that it comes at a time when he is most rushed and is unable to contribute either time or energy. The disadvantage can be done away with by planning now and hiring an organizer to carry out the project. Every merchant we have talked to favors a Christmas parade. Why not get at it now—before the rush begins?

Leeds By-Election

The results of by-elections, as we have noted before, are not dependable evidence of popular trends outside the ridings where the elections were held. There are too many local factors to be considered: the personal popularity of the candidates, the traditional tendencies of the electorate, the efficiency of the respective party machines. The tendency, so frequently obvious in by-election post-mortems, of associating the results with provincial or national developments is often misleading.

With proper allowance for these factors, however, it is possible to draw certain conclusions in the light of the election results. It can be stated, for example, that a factor contributing towards the Liberal defeat in Leeds was the kind of support given the party by the Toronto Star. There were times when the campaign seemed to be between the Toronto Star and the Progressive Conservative cabinet, and the only issue the Charitable Gifts Act. The Liberal party and the Liberal candidate were made to appear incidental to the main bout.

The Star's future depends upon the election of a Liberal government and the rescinding of the Charitable Gifts Act. The election of Mr. Miller in Leeds would have been a step in that direction. The Star, however, balked its purpose by submitting the electors to the kind of journalistic ballyhoo that it used during the federal election. The Conservative Toronto papers, in contrast, almost appeared to ignore the campaign. Without the counter-pressure of the Tory press, the Star appeared the "big stick" and the electors, Liberal of Conservative, do not feel kindly towards the wielder of a big stick, regardless of party.

The Globe and Mail, in its election story, hails the victory as the vindication of the Charitable Gifts Act. It was by no means that, but it was the repudiation of the journalism practised by the Star.

The Charitable Gifts Act is an iniquitous piece of legislation. There is no reasonable doubt of that, nor can there be reasonable doubt that it was passed with the sole purpose of destroying the Toronto Daily Star, strongest critic of the Conservative government. It will be an issue in the next provincial election.

It is to be hoped that the Toronto Star will have learned by then from its embarrassing experience in Leeds that the kind of tactics used there has done neither the paper nor the party one bit of good, but has done harm by confusing a piece of bad legislation with license to practice the Star's brand of journalism.

Life on the Farm

Our thanks to the contributor who recently sent the following, clipped from the Empire Digest:

"Dr. C. E. M. Joad, one of the best known of British broadcasters, recently became a farmer, and finds that a life spent on the land is not the thing of ease, peace and plenty that the average townsman likes to think it is. He concluded a BBC talk on "Life at Home" by making four observations about a farmer's life:

"The expense is terrifying. All my life I have been . . . writing . . . teaching . . . talking. . . I am an old hand and my word goes. In farming I am a comparable ignoramus . . . incompetent in the use of my hands and congenitally incapable of dealing with machines. . . Nobody dreams of taking my advice and my word, when uttered, emphatically does not go. To go to the farm is to forget the world . . . you live in a world of your own.

"The thing is expensive, arduous, humiliating and terrifying; but there are moments—God knows why—of rare and unexpected happiness."

Hallowe'en Party

There was little damage reported in Newmarket on Tuesday morning and the kids all had a good time on Hallowe'en. How different the story is from that of a few years ago when in one wild Hallowe'en, hundreds of dollars of senseless damage was done. The recreation commission which, with the co-operation of the teaching staffs, the Newmarket Trumpet Band and the Newmarket Citizens' Band, and the quiet efforts of public organizations and individuals, is responsible for the change.

The Hallowe'en parade has now become a regular feature of Newmarket's life and in its enjoyment, we are inclined to forget those who are responsible.

Office Cat reports Catnips By Ginger

A recent town-by-law for parking defines a vehicle "for the purpose of the by-law" as every device in, upon or by which any person or property or may be transported upon a highway except such as are propelled exclusively by power.

English can be mashed around quite a bit but legal jargon is the most painful. The slang on the street is preferable to such a definition of parking as this: "The standing of a vehicle, whether occupied or not, otherwise than temporarily for the purpose of and while actually engaged in loading or unloading."

Police officer: Hey! You operator of that device not propelled exclusively by your power, you can't stand it there, whether occupied or not, other than temporarily engaged in loading or unloading.

Main St. Driver: But officer, inasmuch as I find need of taking a parcel to the post office, am I not engaged in loading or unloading my vehicle? And whereas I am actually engaged in lifting the parcel from the back seat, thereby relieving this vehicle of an unspecified burden, I should venture to say that I am thereby justified. Moreover . . .

Officer: Hold and a minute! What is a legal precedent that would thereby confirm your aforesaid contention?

Driver: Why, jurisprudence, of course!

Officer: Well?

Driver: Well, look it up. There are books and books just full of it!

Consider a retiring pension for farmers at $50,000 per year, the cost to be added to farm produce. Our friends, the steel executives, have such a plan worked out. The whole cost of their pensions is to be paid by the company. Now labor wants to be used the same way—the company pay the whole cost of pensions and hospital for labor. Why not have a similar plan for farm people?

The consumer is asked to pay for both labor and executive pensions. We farmers are large consumers of steel. Why should we pay this extra cost? A farmer will give a life-time of work, sell his stock, farm and equipment and if he has $50,000 would be considered to have done fairly well. Our friends, the executives, must think this is fair, or they would not retire their members at the expense of the consumer. If we farmers suggest that the whole cost of a farm pension fund be passed on to the consumer of farm produce, what would be the reaction of labor and industry?

Canada Packers' financial report says that for each dollar of sales of livestock the farmer received 84.7 cents and for other farm produce, 90.14 cents. The sad part is that we farmers cannot tell the public how much of that money had to be spent on steel, lumber, cement, seed, etc. But one fact stands out. The farmer, when he puts his life's saving together, would not have more than our steel friends expect for one year's pension.

The thinking public expects and wants some kind of security for the future. All parties in our last election had social security in some form in their platforms. Now whether the people were too anxious and did not understand correctly, or our leaders gave out the wrong impression, we do not know.

There comes now the suggestion of industry with pension plans for workers. The government would only need to make up part. The general public thought at election time that whatever party was elected would have some kind of compulsory old age hospital care or crop insurance for farmers. Crop insurance would offset an employment insurance for labor.

Canada Packers' report shows $1,423,947 set aside for 1943 pension fund. We read in financial reports of reserves set aside. We often wonder what these reserves are used for. Then we hear again, but not from financial reports, about hidden reserves. This would lead one to think that the statements were holding back some information. We do not know that these reserves are not used to keep labor when times are slack. Labor dumped over on the government to keep in slack times.

We cannot have part of our people with security while others would have no security. We cannot expect something for nothing. Labor and executive can expect people to allow this to go on without a challenge. In the steel industry labor asks a non-contributory pension plan which pays $100 per month at the age of 65 years. Executives in the steel industry have pensions as high as $50,000 per year, both to be added to the cost of steel.

If labor and executive force those on the people, farmers and small businessmen will have to follow suit and pass their pensions costs on. This whole set-up is wrong. The whole way of thinking is wrong. No one has a right to expect to benefit at the expense of other people. Would people like to pay 2 cents per quart for milk, $1 per dozen for eggs, so that farmer could enjoy a pension fund? Chierio.

The state is the servant, not the master, of the people; the state is their guarantee against infringement on their rights, their agent in international and national issues; it is not the function of the state to assume the direction of those activities which rest on individual choice.

Horticultural Society Starts Library Shelf
A copy of The New Garden Encyclopedia was presented to the public library by the Newmarket Horticultural Society at its open meeting on October 26.
Arnold Reinke, president of the Society in making the presentation said that this book was the first of what is planned to become an annual gift from the Society. The encyclopedia is to remain in the library as a reference book. Gradually a well-balanced section on horticultural subjects will be established, using those already present as the nucleus.
Mrs. W. R. Stephens, chairman of the library board, when receiving the book called on all the other town organizations to note the society's example. She said that on the limited budget on which the library is operated, it is impossible to supply the wants of the community in all the technical subjects. If each organization would assist the library to select the best material in the particular field of its interest and to follow the lead of the Horticultural Society it would greatly aid the board in providing the complete library service which is its desire.

56 See Display Of Moulded Ware
An open meeting of the Newmarket Horticultural Society was held at Trinity United church Sunday-school room on Wednesday,
Oct. 26, with 56 present. A.
A. Reinke presided. Mr. Reinke spoke briefly on the loss to the society caused by the death on October 24 of James Gibney, a charter member of the local society.
Guest speaker was Ernest Neilsen who spoke on a new type of flower pot which he has introduced to Canada. This type of container which Mr.
Neilsen is manufacturing at Roche's Point is made from a limestone, crushed and molded into various attractive designs.
Colored, the container acts as jardiner as well as replacing the standard clay pot. It also has the advantage, that it does not become covered with fungus growth on the outside as do many of the old red clay flower pots.
Mr. Neilsen left early, but he left a display of his wares which were examined by all in attendance.
There was great interest shown in his products and it is planned that at a later meeting
Mr. Neilsen will be present again.
Mr. George Luesby presented colored movies taken of local gardens. The pictures showed many of the beautiful flowers which have won for Newmarket its reputation in the horticultural field. Delicious refreshments were served by the ladies of the society and a social hour was enjoyed by those present. Mrs.
John O'Halloran convoked the refreshments.

12 APPEAL
IN WHITCHURCH
9 DISMISSED
Twelve appeals against the assessment just completed for the township of Whitchurch were handled by the Assessment Court in session on Saturday at Vandorf. This court is composed of Reeve Logan, Deputy-Reeve Ivan McLaughlin and Councillors Fred Timbers, R.
Bayer and Sid Legge. Every appeal was of so small consideration, that when the court arose, only $350 spread over three properties, was the total of the change in the roll made by Assessor
Fred Cummings.
Irving J. Hill obtained a reduction of $100 on a $4,400 assessment at lot 14, con. 8. The 100-acre farm is assessed at $3,000 and the buildings at $1,400.
"It's about all I can do and it keeps me busy paying taxes to you fellows," declared
Mr. Hill in speaking for a reduction.
When he claimed he bought the farm in 1943 for $6,500 with stock and implements and that the farm and buildings were valued at $5,000, council dropped off $100 on land assessment.
Owner of five acres on the 2nd, James Reid convinced the court he was highly assessed and obtained a reduction of $200.
He wanted to know why the former owner, a blacksmith, who lived there for many years, was only assessed $700 and just when he (Reid) stepped into ownership the assessment started to climb, he claimed, and this year it is $1,200.
Deputy-Reeve McLaughlin told the appellant that the assessor was not just increasing newcomers.
"I had my assessment increased, too."
Another appellant obtained $50 off while all other appeals were dismissed and the assessment sustained. Several on Cherry St. entered appeals that were more or less trivial in size. One woman told the court that her taxes last year were less than $5 yet she appealed over a $50 increase in assessment. She was told that her contribution to the treasury was scarcely large enough to pay for assessing her property and maintaining a name on the roll to say nothing of the services residents get in the way of roads, fire protection, etc.

Mrs. Mitchell said.

Dog Keeps Order
On Spook Night
Aurora was a hive of activity
Monday evening as Aurora youngsters, and a few oldsters too, celebrated Halloween in customary and rousing fashion.
Actual damage was for the most part light, pranksters behaving themselves quite well.
The evening began with a gala costume parade from the high school. With the parade over, the shouts and cries of the youngsters as they made their rounds echoed and re-echoed throughout the town. Only apparently serious damage was done to a number of fences, which were laid flat, and to the street lights, 40 of which were broken. According to the Aurora police, they kept things moving through the efforts of a kindly but ferocious-acting dog. When large crowds of older fellows would be apparently settling out to do some real damage, the dog would be loosed.
The police report that these crowds broke up quickly. No one was, of course, hurt.
Stalactites are ice-like formations which hang from the ceiling of a cave.

Complete Arrangements For Dec. 1 Bazaar
Plans for the December 1 bazaar, display of hand crafts and tea which will be held at Newmarket town hall are nearing completion. There will be a good variety of baking, home canned food and pickles as well as a wide variety of top quality craft items.
Everyone is welcome to enter articles in the bazaar with the understanding that 15 percent will be retained from all sales for the piano fund for Prince Charles school. Mrs. Ted Mitchell, originator of the idea, said that that response has been keen and that an excellent bazaar is anticipated. Further particulars can be had by contacting Mrs. Mitchell at 736. Articles which are to be handled by the Handcraft Group at the bazaar must be left with Mrs. Herman Bennett, Millard Ave., not later than November 29.

church. Guest minister at the are to be held on Monday when its anniversary supper. Starting at 5.30, the supper is to be followed by a dramatic recital featuring

Conservation Authority To Be Organized
Monday evening the Aurora council held a special October meeting. During the meeting a letter from R. H. Richardson of the Department of Planning and Development was read in which the use of the Aurora council chambers was requested for a Holland River Conservation Authority organizational meeting on the afternoon of Nov. 28.
It was pointed out to council that the date selected by Mr.
Richardson was nomination day and that in addition an afternoon meeting might be difficult to arrange. Following a motion by councillor Charlie Davies, a letter is to be sent to Mr. Richardson suggesting the evening of Nov. 30.

Satisfying Sandwiches

The main course in the noon meal of many people is served in a sandwich. Such sandwiches should be as satisfying as the meal served to the family at home. Good sandwiches need only simple ingredients used with imagination, rather than intricate detail and expensive constituents.

To the person who carries a lunch every day, whether to school, to the office or to the factory, variety means much. A different kind of bread, a new filling or even a new shape makes the sandwich lunch more interesting and appetizing.

Fillings may be made in quantity and stored until required. Sandwiches when dipped in egg and milk and sautéed as French toast make a suitable course for the home meal.

ABBOTT-BARRON RITES AT SCHOMBERG

On Saturday, Oct. 29, in St. Mary Magdalene's, Schomberg, Mr. Harold S. Abbott, son of Rev. and Mrs. F. V. Abbott, and Miss Jean W. Barron, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Barron, formerly of Schomberg, were united in marriage. The ceremony was performed by Rev. F. V. Abbott.

The bride wore a gown of white velvet with veil and bridal bouquet. Her only attendant was her sister-in-law, Mrs. Lloyd Barron, who wore a gown of prune colored velvet.

All members of both families were present with many church members who came to wish the bridal pair every happiness. After the ceremony the couple left on a motor trip for points north. On their return next Saturday, Nov. 5, a reception will be held at the home of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Barron, 241 Keele St., Toronto, in the evening when they hope to meet all their friends.

IT'S A Woman's World

By CAROLINE E. ION

Witches, ghosts, black cats, pirates, gypsies, clowns, thin tramps and fat tramps (depending on the number of pillows that could be stuffed into Daddy's old suit) fairy tale characters and heroes of the comic strips, all these and more made up Halloween night in Newmarket when the small fry had the spotlight of the town's interest focused on them. It was a huge success. We still haven't decided who enjoyed themselves the most, the grown-ups or the school children. As part of an annual affair sponsored by the recreation commission the night got underway with the children meeting at their respective classes for the preliminary judging.

On hand for this important task were members of the Home and School Association, the school and class mothers. For the final judging at the town hall there were three ladies, Mrs. Henry Moore of the Catholic Women's League, Mrs. Gordon Downward of the Legion Ladies' Auxiliary and Mrs. Kenneth Russell of the Home and School Association.

Monday night was not just an isolated event but rather, the culmination of weeks of anticipation and preparation. Like the brew in the witch's cauldron, the plans had been simmering for days and on the night of spooks and hauntings, were ready. Some of the costumes were ingenious. There was the Indian who was worried by the current housing shortage so he brought his tepee with him. There was Robin Hood, complete with quiver and bow, Superman in his distinctive scarlet and blue suit, Bo-Peep and the Irish Colleen in their becoming frilly, crepe paper costumes, the gallant senor with waxed moustachios and a beguiling senorita in her lace curtain mantilla (should say his, for the charming lady proved to be a young lad from Andrew St.)

There were so many others, some comical and some a trifle wobbly for crepe paper and boys don't mix, but they all represented time, effort and thought so the children's night of fun would be all that the young ones had visioned.

Teachers' Courage

There should be some star of merit that could be awarded to the teachers for their part in activities such as occurred on Monday. Perhaps the citation could read, "Courage beyond the call of duty in the face of 45 (or whatever number of youngsters there are in that particular class), reasons for desertion." The entire teaching staffs were present to assist in many ways so that the plans ran smoothly.

For many of them it was a repetition of the afternoon as parties had been staged in the junior classes. Remember that time you foolishly invited five other members of the jelly bean crowd in to help celebrate Junior's sixth birthday? Oh, no, don't try to forget those experiences. Do you want to develop a neurosis or a psychosis or something? Well, multiply that noise and confusion by six or seven and you can appreciate the delightful time the teacher must have had at her party.

The class rooms were a treat to visit in themselves. Jack-o-lanterns leered from the blackboards; jolly pumpkin men marched in company with scarecrows; witches leaned nonchalantly on their broomsticks waiting for the enchanted hour and there were black cats and bats and a ghostly group of spooks, goblins and skeletons.

The firemen deserve more than a word of praise for their part in the proceedings. They policed the entire parade route, keeping a watchful eye on the little ones who might have had some difficulty with their masks or cumbersome costumes. Here they gave a helping hand to a short-legged young one; there they were assisting others up the town hall steps. Once everyone had arrived they quickly cleared the aisles to all exits with the help of other willing volunteers.

As you have gathered by this time, the Halloween party was a project of co-operation. There were the Lion's club members helping wherever they were needed. There were the Legion Ladies' Auxiliary who filled over 1,000 bags with candy, peanuts and an apple for the treat which every school child had looked forward to with keen anticipation. What's a Halloween party without a "shell out"?

Bands and Everything

For weeks the little boys and many of the bigger ones also have been bragging that they would be marching down Main St. behind the bands. They loved every minute of the march. No soldiers ever marched so proudly as did the school children behind the Citizens' and Trumpet Bands on Monday night. Crowds lined the Main St. to watch and to show the pre-school aged tots the wonders of the night. From the sidelines came squeals, "Daddy, it isn't a real lion, is it?" And quickly the fears were quelled. More than one youngster was heard to ask, "What am I, Mom?" But no one needed to ask, "Are you having any fun?" The answer was too vocally and visibly in the affirmative.

St. Paul's W.A. Has 36th Anniversary

The Woman's Auxiliary celebrated its 36th birthday last Thursday, marking the occasion with a huge birthday cake, decorated with pink and white icing and the words "W.A. anniversary." The four corners were sent to three shut-in members, and the fourth to Mrs. E. F. Streeter, former W.A. missionary to China. Mrs. T. C. Watson, a charter member, blew out the 36 candles and cut the cake, and recalled former days. Mrs. Bacon, another charter member, and Doreen secretary for over 35 years, also spoke. Then Mrs. Powell, the president, asked Mr. Rhodes to speak, and he ended by saying he wished the W.A. as much success in the next 36 years as we have had in the past 36. The president then called on Mrs. Arthur Evans, recording-secretary, to read her minutes of the 25th anniversary held on Oct. 27, 1938, when Newmarket branch had a birthday party with the Diocesan president, Dr. Mabel Cartwright, present.

The W.A. is holding its monthly devotional and business meeting next week, Nov. 10, when they will be shown the colored slides of this year's Study Book, "Dawn Over Japan."

Today the Parochial Guild is holding its annual bazaar and tea in the parish hall.

The Common Round...

By Isabel Inglis Colville

HALLOWE'EN

There is one night in the year when fairy tales come true, when elves and witches, fairies and demons roam the world and leave behind them a pleasant memory—if they be good fairies or kindly elves, and an unpleasant one if they be witches or demons who misplace steps and gates and endanger life and property.

Sometimes one wonders if nature herself does not enter into the Hallowe'en spirit. At least I can recollect one such occasion and it will always live in my memory as a time when all my childhood belief in fairies and witches found, as I thought, real confirmation.

It was Hallowe'en and at supertime the other half of the family said, "It's as dark as Egypt—just the night for pixies to be abroad, so I'll go out and secure the gates and other moveables," while mother and I, within the house, set forth apples and candies to propitiate any wandering sprites.

As the evening wore on we were visited by sprites and ghosts and tramps, but being regaled on mortal food they departed peacefully and soon we were in bed and the house settled into as much quiet as an old house where squirrels hold revels on the roof and where mysterious squeaks and groans develop, ever does.

I suppose the visits from spirits affected my dreams, for I woke up shrieking, "Oh catch it, catch it!" "Catch what?" came from the other bed. "The lion," I yelled, "don't you hear it growling?" "Wake up, there's no lion," said the man of the house, while a voice came from mother's room crying, "What on earth's that noise?" "I don't—I began and Archie hissed, 'Hush! I'm listening.' 'I'm not,' said I, 'I'm getting dizzy and seasick.' 'Nonsense,' said my better half, while mother called, 'I don't like this, my bed is moving.'"

By this time my bed was swinging like a pendulum—tick—I'm frightened—tick—I'm sick. "Get up and look under my bed," said I to the darkness but there was no reply for a few moments, except the ominous, low growl that seemed to come from the depths of the earth. "It's an earthquake," volunteered a voice from the tremulous gloom. "Well," I told the world in general, "I don't think it's fair of nature to play tricks on a night like this."

We could hear the geese on a neighboring farm honking or squawking or whatever geese do when they're mad, then a dog bayed, an owl gave a sort of drunken hoot of derision—as if he had been shaken, and with a last sullen growl from whatever underground monster had been disturbed in its sleep, the world resumed its wonted placidity and we dropped into an uneasy sleep.

Many were the tales told at breakfast tables the morning after. Tales of hens that "flew the coop" and went away from there, of dogs with nervous prostration and people ditto. Never tell me that mother nature has not a sense of humor. Maybe she thought we were getting too complacent—developing a superiority complex and undertook to shake it out of us.

If so, she succeeded!

MR. PEELING GIVES ADDRESS

Mr. Peeling, student in charge of Sharon and Holland Landing since Rev. H. L. Puxley left for Toronto, gave the address at St. Paul's church, Newmarket, Sunday morning. Rev. P. G. Powell took charge of the service in the absence of the rector, who was taking the celebrations of Holy Communion for Mr. Peeling. His subject was "All Saints" and he gave a most interesting address. He also assisted Mr. Rhodes at the evening service.

PRESCRIPTIONS

THE PHYSICIAN THE NURSE THE PHARMACIST

The physician, the nurse, the pharmacist are each concerned, though in a different way, with the use of drugs. Their inter-relationship can be summarized in this way: the physician prescribes, the pharmacist presents, the nurse administers. The physician examines the patient and diagnoses the disease. If a drug is indicated, he prescribes a suitable remedy and directs how it shall be taken and in what quantity. The pharmacist then prepares and presents the remedy in suitable form. The patient may be able to administer the drug himself but when administration requires special knowledge and techniques, the skill of a trained nurse is required.

These three people represent three important links in the human chain that brings our modern medication to wage war against disease and bring health and happiness to the patient.

Should your doctor prescribe, we invite you to confidently bring your prescription to us.

NEWS 'N' VIEWS

By GEORGE HASKETT
ERA AND EXPRESS SPORTS EDITOR

Subject shiny: Slowly, surely pot simmers. Cool weather smokes the hockey men into the open. Players and governors speaking up bolder and bolder. Forechecking on the side for new talent. Main topic, Metropolitan League. There's life in the old gal yet. Outlook bright. Repeat of last year—four teams—Bradford, Aurora, Sutton, Newmarket. Count could rise if the executive says the word. At least three possibly four, seeking entry. Hard-working second in command Harold Rogers has two Vets' organizations from the city ready to step in. Would play home games Nobleton (artificial ice) and Richmond Hill. Rumbblings around Woodbridge that may bring a query. President John Hines has been holding a letter from Stouffville the past two months. Guess the latter still is of the same mind. According to Stouffville Tribune expect the O.H.A. to shoot them into grouping with our four Trolley loopers. Clippers are last team we would like to see come in. Nothing personal. But they do bring in players from every which way, and grab 'em off other teams, or did last year. O.H.A. may have something to say about it this year, but if the powers-that-be let things go as they did last year, could be the same old story. Lots of rules but no enforcement. So for your scribbler—go all-out for O.H.A. affiliation for the Trolley circuit. Same four teams as last year. If the O.H.A. won't listen—they didn't last year—pull out from under their wing and run our own show. Something to be said for this latter plan. With artificial ice in Aurora and Newmarket, it could run triple schedule, carry right through March for your play-offs. If it goes over—no reason it shouldn't—you'll have more than four teams seeking entry. After all when you sit down and work it out, what do teams get out of the O.H.A. playdowns—one first round game. Lose money on the return game as the Spitfires did travelling to Parry Sound. Sutton also had one first round game.

Think it over men — Metro executives convene tonight. This latter well kicked around piece of legislation will be discussed pro and con all hours into the night.

Bradford is one club that looks with disfavor on O.H.A. entry. Limits their available players. "Celery Kings" set up their club for the coming year Friday. Don. "Brains" Willson, former Newmarket "Redmen" of 1933 championship vintage, is the new coach. Several players needed to round out a strong crew. Have in mind several old Bradford boys, such as Willson, "Chuck" Nesbitt. Willson now travels for Blue Top Brewing Co. in this district. There's a possibility of a trophy for league's most valuable player

'Mary Ellen' Bats .441 Leads Newmarket Ladies

For better or for worse, here's the batting averages compiled by our ladies' softball club, Barrie and District League champions, over the past season.

	At Bat	Hits	Av.

Dean	48	17	.354

Duncan	8	1	.125
A. Moore	2	0	.000
Primrose	18	2	.111
Rose	12	1	.084

Lois Manning and Edna McGrath shared the heavy slugging honors, the former's three-circuit smashes and doubles record being the best on the books, while Edna McGrath banged out the most three baggers. Mary Ellen McInnis and Phyl McInnis shared the honors of crossing with the most runs, 20 each.

Though the team failed to go beyond the first round in the P.W.S.U. play-downs, they brought home the Barrie and District championship for which they can justly be proud.

St. Andrew's Gridders Defeat N.H.S. 11-7

Newmarket high school grid-ders dropped a hard fought 11-7 decision to St. Andrew's College "Seconds" at the high school field last Wednesday. Fred Speer's gridiron squad pulled into a 7-5 lead early in the second half using Stallard Waterhouse's long run back of a kick that carried him over the College goal-line for a touchdown to shape their lead. The Purple and Gold advantage faded as Barry Pouter, quarter-back of the visitors, plunged 30 yards in the fourth quarter for a major score.

Stallard Waterhouse and Jerry Hugo featured the high school running attack. Ian Brown and Barry Pouter powered the College drive.

The long fellow and "Joint" McComb finished up even for the most triples, Harvey Gibney finally outran Joe Tunney for the most two-baggers, eight to seven. Joe Tunney skipped across home plate on 27 occasions to top the run scoring.

Financially, and in the amount of silverware collected, the past season didn't measure up to the last couple. The Vets returned to O.A.S.A. competition and carried New Toronto Legion to three games before bowing out.

Mitchell's Promotion To Galt

The promotion of Red Mitchell from the bench of Aurora Hawks in junior "C" company to that of Galt Blackhawks of the junior "A" circuit came as no surprise to those close to the hockey scene. We withheld the news until it became a reality, despite the fact we knew what was going on, as there's many a slip takes place before negotiations are finalized, and a premature release may spoil things.

Mitchell, with plenty of hockey experience, and a temperament ideal for the handling of youngsters, can do a swell job, providing he gets the support of the Galt fans and management. A coach however can't be much better than the calibre of the players he has on hand, and while it may be a bit early to judge, it would appear that the Galt team lacks the strength and depth to be a serious contender for the O.H.A. junior "A" championship. Galt was in the doldrums last winter, and the present roster is about a year away from their potentialities. Alfie Moore, the deposed coach, found the going tough, as the fans demanded a winner and there wasn't too much harmony in the dressing room.

Mitchell thus takes over in a difficult situation, but Reg. Hamilton, the Chicago field director for Ontario, and those connected with the Chicago chain, are confident in the genial "Red" they have made a wise choice. Patience, and a realization of the exact situation by the team followers, will aid Mitchell greatly. He has made a fine showing in ten days at the helm, and the best wishes of district hockey will follow him.

Aurora Hawks will still have the services of Mitchell, at least so far as the two jobs will not conflict. Mitchell will handle the team in practices until the regular schedule starts and will work in liaison with an appointee to be made later. It is a bit early to comment on the feasibility of the plan or what will actually happen in the next two or three weeks. It seems essential however to obtain someone who will be thoroughly familiar with Mitchell's system, and is up-to-date in present day hockey methods. Players signed so far by Aurora include the following: Bill Wilkinson, Bill McGhee, Bill Altridge, Ron. Simmons, Grant Firth, Jack Atkinson, Orrie Thoms, and Don Gibson from the '49 club. Bruce MacMillan, Sutton Greenshirts, Paul Maguire, Stroud, Ken. Wardle, Unionville Juniors, Gord. Dillon, and Len. Smith of the championship Weston team, Dave Couch, a newcomer from Whitechurch (township), and from Aurora juveniles, Tommy Hulse, Grant Winters, Andy Closs, Hugh McRae, Bill Dale, Don Marchant and Lyall Boyle. Others will be signed later. The railbirds have been impressed with the smart work of 17-year-old Paul Maguire in the nets and he appears to have everything needed. Maguire along with MacMillan are both employed, and residing in Aurora and do not come under the import rule. The status of the Weston boys remains to be seen, but Wardle definitely rates as a valuable addition to the team. Keith Collings of Bradford is out with a football injury, but will rejoin the squad later.

By-the-way, it's just a decade since Aurora won the junior C championship. Shut your eyes and name the team! The stout fellows who took the silverware were: Frankie Carr, Whitey Bone, Ross Follitt, Joint McComb, Mutt Collings, Pete Donkin, Merv Broughton, the late Jim Cummings, Frank Michanuk, "Red" Welsh, Stan Gibbons, Keith Knowles, Duke Dennis, with Charlie Rowntree as coach. The Aurora management is figuring it's time for history to repeat itself.
